TEACHERS

Ruth Jappy – Delta, British Columbia

Ruth grew up with Irish music & dance - especially accordions, having a father and brother who both played. So it is no wonder she married Alex Jappy, a well-known Scottish accordionist. She has had the pleasure of teaching workshops in Canada, United States, Australia & Japan and also the T.A.C. Summer School.

She has taught, and Alex has played for the Delta Borderers SCD Class in Vancouver, for over 30 years and they have also taught a weekly Old Time Dance class for over 20 years.

Rebecca Roman – Buffalo, New York

Becky was born in NYC, but was raised in Cleveland, Ohio where she made her dancing debut at the age of 3 - She was the bee in a production of "King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba"! She spent her childhood studying ballet and appearing in community and semi-professional theater productions.

She moved to Buffalo, NY for College and stayed to teach autistic children for many years. Currently, she is an instrumental music teacher.

She saw a listing for Scottish Country Dancing in an Adult Education brochure which requested registrants to bring soft shoes and a tea cup to class. She was intrigued, came to class, loved it, and her life was forever changed for the better! She teaches SCD in Buffalo to adults and children, has had the great pleasure of teaching workshops in the US and Canada, and was honoured to serve as Chairman of T.A.C.

David Booz – Toronto, Ontario

David began Scottish Country Dancing as a child with Betty Thompson of Newtonbrook, returning to dancing in 1985. As a member of The Finlay Scottish Country Dancers for many years, David performed in countless demonstrations locally and in Florida and Scotland. He has attended numerous workshops and weekends, including TAC Summer School and RSCDS Summer School in St. Andrews, where he has benefited from many fine teachers. He earned his Teacher's Certificate in 1999 with Jean Noble as Tutor. David has taught the Woodglen group in Toronto and for Toronto Branch Classes, and workshops in Picton, Toronto, Kingston and Lethbridge, as well as one guest teaching opportunity at TAC Summer School. He currently teaches the Trinity Scottish Country Dancers in Toronto. He also regularly dons his pants and enjoys ballroom dancing with his favourite partner Suzanne.
